Foreword

In working out our theme of "Texas Monuments" against a background of historical monuments, we have tried to include gleanings of that which has contributed to make life meaningful for you. This wealth we have kept during the year for your future use.

The Staff

Because the rules of life: playing fair, playing hard, and being no quitter are his rules in school, in sports, and in life; because his confidence in us has won our confidence in him; and because he is a friend to everyone, we the seniors dedicate this 1958
Shamrock to Coach Johnson

Best Wishes
Love Jones

Dear Glenna.
Of all the girls in this school, yours probably about the sweetest yet. I guess you know I think a lot of you. If I was poetic today I would write you a poem but it wouldn't express my feelings for you as well as I would like for it to. This letter probably doesn't do very well, itself. My apologies! I think you are simply swell + one of the best friends a girl can have. If you hadn't let me use your English notebooks all those many times, I would surely have failed the course. (& may yet!) I want to thank you one great big time right here and now for the use of your history papers. Without you, I would have failed that course, too. And may yet. In fact, the only subjects you don't help me with are the ones I don't take. And I'm determined to get to the bottom of this page! Well, anyway, I can't write + you can't read it + I'm getting close to it now. Always be sweet. Put your troubles in the bottom of your heart, sit on the lid, and smile. Ruby Dale

Glenna
Lots of luck & a real grip in for life
